BIOINFINITY USA FACT SHEET

Bioinfinit USA is a medical device company focused on women's pelvic health. Established in 2013 the company's mission is to enhance health and quality of life via healthcare technologies. The Vibrance™ Pelvic Trainer is Bioinfinit USA's premier product.

Vibrance Pelvic Trainer

Bioinfinit USA recognizes that low awareness and understanding of pelvic health issues has created an epidemic of pelvic health-related problems such as incontinence, pelvic organ prolapse and sexual dysfunction. The company wanted to create a definitive solution for women seeking support on their lifelong journey with pelvic health. Years of extensive medical and market research went into the development of the innovative Vibrance Pelvic Trainer. The result is a patented, simple-to-use, award-winning device clinically proven effective and safe.

Clinical Studies and FDA

Backed with FDA-clearance and clinical studies, the Vibrance Pelvic Trainer has proved to be more effective in strengthening pelvic muscles and improving bladder control than pelvic floor muscle exercise training conducted by a physical therapist (Download Summary of Clinical Data).

Medical Design Excellence Award

The Vibrance Pelvic Trainer was honored as a MDEA Silver Winner in the Self-Care and Over-the-Counter category in 2012. The MDEA awards recognize significant innovations in medical device design that provide enhanced benefits, improve healthcare delivery and change traditional medical attitudes or practices.
